

TechPride, Inc. is a Woman-Owned Small Business (WOSB) and Small Business Administration (SBA)-certified Historically Underutilized Business Zone (HUBZone). We specialize in management consulting services supporting program management, continual process improvement, strategic planning and implementation, organizational change management, executive coaching, strategic communications, information technology (IT), and software development and customization.

Our dedicated consultants have the background and expertise to help your team navigate challenges, implement solutions, and achieve results.

Together our success starts now.

At TechPride, we know how to do everyday things uncommonly well. We learn what makes your team work well (and where it might not). We ask questions. We listen. We build solutions that work. Our goal is to become your trusted advisor by helping our clients get to where they want to be. We earn that trust by getting the right work done right.

Services & Capabilities

Change Management & Communications.

Optimize approaches to think ahead, providing measurable end-to-end shaping, consensus building, and transformation services.

Cloud Modernization. Identify opportunities to adopt technology with consideration of the people, processes, and technology needed to deliver agile, data-driven decision-making capability.

Data Analysis & Visualization. Provide data-driven decision-making capacity, detailing performance trends and developing processes to support data management as an operational asset.

Executive Coaching. Design custom tools to accelerate the influence of leadership, providing an inquiry-based approach to create awareness, apply intuitive thinking, and promote growth to affect change.

Governance. Establish multi-disciplinary services, creating new – or supporting existing – oversight processes and infrastructure, policy development, consensus building, and accountability processes.

IT Architecture & Application Development.

Develop innovative, full-service software development services, product prototyping, web application development, and website design.

Process Improvement. Assess, enhance, and implement operational workstreams, streamlining schedules by eliminating redundancies and ensuring roles and responsibilities are clearly defined and executed.

Program Management. Use Dynamic Rigor to deliver multi-faceted solutions, establishing cross-functional support that aligns efforts, tracks progress, manages projects, increases transparency, and drives success.

Our Clients

TechPride has demonstrated experience and longevity supporting Federal and Commercial clients. Our strategic roadmap focuses our future growth in the Federal space, generating and capitalizing on new opportunities through our strategic partnerships and client reputations, as well as continued work supporting current and future Commercial clients.

We work with multiple sectors of the U.S. Federal government, including the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), the United States Coast Guard (USCG), and the Department of Defense (DoD). Through our contract vehicles and certifications, TechPride offers multiple ways for current and future clients to contract with us. With our commercial clients, our work is primarily focused on software strategy and planning, product prototyping, and web application development and web site design, as well as modernization projects.

Contracting with Us

TechPride's multiple contract vehicles and certifications provide a streamlined way for Federal clients to partner with us.
